

LÝ NGUYỄN

Executive Chef, Anh and Chi

Chef Lý grew up in her mom's Saigon cafe in the 1970's, a vibrant shop for folks to gather, dine and dream about peace and freedom. Forty years later, Mom's family recipes, dream for freedom, and love for bringing people together have reached the Pacific Northwest. Lý not only established Phở Hoàng - one of the most iconic restaurants in Vancouver – but also continues to reimagine Vietnamese cuisine with the next generation at Anh and Chi. She is thrilled to pass on her culinary “secrets” to her children so she can relax in her garden and run around after her grandchildren!

VINCENT NGUYEN

Chef & Owner, Anh and Chi

Amélie and Vincent Nguyen were born to Vietnamese refugees and raised in Vancouver, BC. Amélie is an academic in health, passionate to tell stories that inspire thought, compassion, and change. Vincent was a medical school drop out whose drive for legacy, and passion for food and design, committed the brother and sister duo to advance Vietnamese cuisine in Vancouver. Together, they created the highly acclaimed and beloved Anh and Chi.
